About the Portal

Portal development is an integral part of the University's emerging eKnowledge strategy. Its aim is to provide an integrated personalised web environment for both staff and students allowing them to interact in a seamless, secure atmosphere for both teaching and research, and to provide the opportunity to optimise business processes and objectives.

This strategy encompasses student and staff portals and specific developments in Applications, Alumni, Research Management and Business Intelligence portals. Future developments will see further integration and new developments in customer relationship management and knowledge management.

The University's commitment to the Portal from the Vice Chancellor (streaming media file).

Guest logins

You can login to the portal for a typical student view using any of the following usernames:-

- guest1
- guest2
- guest3
- guest4
- guest5
- guest6
- guest7
- guest8
- guest9
- guest10

The password for all these guest accounts is portal.

Remember:-

These are shared accounts and are intended to give you an idea of what the portal looks like. The layouts for these acounts will be reset periodically so any changes that you make will be lost. You may not be able to use some of the applications in the portal due to licensing restrictions. They are for guest use not permanent use.

If somebody else logs in to the account that you are using, you will be logged out.

Exam Timetable
Your definitive examination timetable for May 2004* is now available from the link below. Please note, this will not include any alternative arrangements (including alternative campus arrangements) made for your examinations. If this applies to you, you will receive a letter detailing the arrangements by Friday 7 May. If you have not received a letter by this date, please contact the Courses Office.
(*Not applicable for Medical School students)
Important: You must read the notes and regulations regarding examinations
Students who miss an assessment or have their performance affected by extenuating circumstances should refer immediately to the procedure and guidance for dealing with Extenuating Circumstances in the Quality Manual
